Fees Charged for Foreign Currency Transactions

When the transaction requires a conversion of currency, for example, the purchase of foreign currency with Canadian dollars, or a securities trade in a foreign market (e.g. a U.S. market) that settles in a Canadian dollar account, a conversion of currency will be required. In all such cases, we (or a party related to us or a third party) will act as principal in converting the currency at rates established or determined by the principal. These rates are subject to change without notice and may vary according to market conditions, the type of currency involved in the transaction, and the total value of the currency being converted. The party performing the currency conversion may earn revenue on such currency conversion transaction, in addition to the commission or other fees applicable to the transaction, based on the difference between the applicable bid and ask rates for the currency then in effect (commonly referred to as the "spot rates") and the rates resulting when a spread or markup is applied to such spot rates. Revenue may also be earned based on the difference between the bid or ask rates charged to the client and the rates at which the dealer ultimately offsets any resulting foreign exchange exposure it may have, either as a net buyer or a net seller of the foreign currency. Conversion of currency will take place at the transaction date unless otherwise specified by us or parties related to us. Currency conversion rates charged on your transactions are available at your request. For further information, we refer you to our Relationship Disclosure and Terms and Conditions brochure under the heading, "Currency Conversion and Foreign Exchange".
