

CARE AND MANAGEMENT OF YOUR ACCOUNT

Scotiabank recognizes the importance of your personal information and never takes for granted the trust that you have placed in us in order to protect that information. Scotiabank works hard to treat your personal information in a secure and respectful manner.

To serve you better and/or provide you with personalized wealth management advice tailored to your individual needs and goals, we^[1] would like your consent to share your information with select professionals within any current or newly acquired members of the Scotiabank group of companies^[2].

Why we share your information: In addition to the purposes described in the Scotiabank Privacy Agreement (available at www.scotiabank.com/privacy), we collect, use and share your information to better understand your needs and goals, offer products and services to help meet those needs and goals, and set up or manage products and services that you select.

What information we share about you: We may share any information we have collected about you including your contact information, occupation, date of birth, social insurance number, annual personal income, stated assets and liabilities and your spouse or partner's contact information and occupation.

Your choices and rights: Your consent to share is not a condition of receiving any Scotiabank products or services. At any time, you may tell us to stop sharing your information for purposes that are not directly related to the ongoing provision of existing products or services and we will then only share your name and any limited information necessary to communicate your sharing preferences.

Your consent to share: Your choice below will replace any previous consents to share information that you may have provided to us.

☐ I consent to share my information.

☐ I do not consent to share my information.
